

Random cross-validation is an interpolation certificate, not a deployment-safety certificate

A

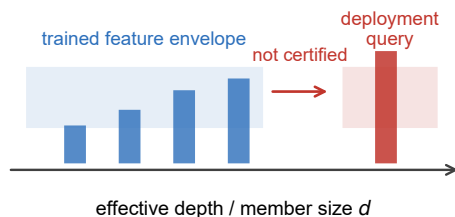

Validation domain mismatch

Random CV

validates exchangeable interpolation only

Engineering use

often asks beyond the training envelope

B

Interval coverage collapses out of envelope

C

Tree extrapolation misses size-effect physics

D

Gate + fallback restores target reliability

